8.00am	Registration
8.30am	Officiated and Keynote Address by the Malaysian Minister of Finance II, Dato' Seri Ahmad Husni Mohamad Hanadzlah (invited)
9.00am	Session 1 A Case Study: International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) &amp; Its Impact on France Public Sector Since the year 2001, there has been a global move towards IFRS/IPSAS adoption and indeed in over 120 nations across the globe, including France which applies accounting standards that are broadly consistent with IPSAS. What is the major change areas and impact on the France public sector thereafter? And will Malaysia encounter the same experience?
9.45am	Session 2 Will Accrual-Based Accounting Bring Long Term Financial Sustainability for the Public Sector? This session will discuss and examine: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• What is financial sustainability?</li> <li>• Why is it so important?</li> <li>• Can accrual-based accounting play a role in this area?</li> <li>• Best practice approaches to both balance sheet management and managing capital expenditure.</li> </ul>
10.30am	Coffee/Tea Break
11.00am	Session 3 Enhancing Transparency in Financial Reporting via Accrual-Based Accounting The preparation of transparent and understandable financial statements is an important way for Government bodies to demonstrate their accountability to the taxpaying stakeholders and development partners. This communication is an important part of building trust. How will the adoption of accrual accounting improve accountability, enhance transparency and ease the audits of public sectors?
11.45am	Session 4 Future e-Government (EG): New Models, New Challenges, New Instruments Significant progress has been achieved so far with ICT making inroads to all Government departments in creating a connected and seamless Government. Cooperation and strategic alliance between the public and private sector is believed to boost and accelerate the implementation of EG in the public sector and further bring maturity to the government service delivery system through the sharing of creative ideas and innovations. What will be offered next via collaboration with the private sector?
12.30pm	Networking Lunch
2.00pm	Session 5 Nurturing Accounting Talent in Government The Government and the industry in general are in need of highly competent accountants and finance talents to drive and support Malaysia's navigation towards becoming a high income nation. Has Malaysian Institute of Accountant (MIA) taken any measures to bridge the gap for the Government, and how?
2.45pm	Session 6 In Pursuit of Happiness Today, more findings state that happiness at work is one of the major sources of positive outcomes in the workplace. Learn how you as an accountant can get more done, feel less stress and work smarter!

TIME	TOPIC
14 JUNE 2013 (FRIDAY)
9.00am	Session 1 Innovative &amp; Supportive Leadership The way forward is through initiating, inviting and nurturing ideas that stimulate creativity and innovation through supportive leadership. Motivating employees through visible and known goals encourage collaboration and innovation without fear. Innovative and supportive leadership removes traditional thinking barriers towards continuous improvement. How can the public sector embrace it as our culture?
9.45am	Session 2 Presentation of Financial Statement in the Public Sector: A Cross-Country Comparison This session analyses the annual accounts in the public sector in six countries (Hong Kong, Canada and New Zealand) highlighting the differences and similarities in approaches.
10.30am	Coffee/Tea Break
10.45am	Session 3 Mind Mapping for Quick Action Feeling swamped by information? The Mind Map® can be applied to every aspect of life where improved learning and clearer thinking will enhance human performance. Originated in the late 1960s by Tony Buzan, Mind Maps® are now used by millions around the world from all ages, whenever they wish to use their minds more effectively. Learn how this technique can be applied by you as a professional accountant whenever you wish to use your minds more effectively.
11.30am	Session 4 Managers in the Middle: Leading Change The Government is making a strategic shift in the management of the nation's finances through the implementation of accrual accounting. Change management will be one of the most critical challenges in this transformation, as the changes required will affect the way work is done in the future, in terms of roles and responsibilities and processes. Accountants will be key to ensuring the change is successful due to the significant role they will play. Using the See-Feel-Change framework, PwC will elaborate on the benefits to be derived as well as the importance of managing this change in a structured manner from an organisational and people perspective to assist the accountants in discharging their obligations to the Rakyat in this critical project.
