Elina, a speaker for CyberSAFE program from the Outreach and Corporate Communications of CyberSecurity Malaysia, has been handling mass media related advertising from radio, television, and print for almost 6 years.

Being a mother of two young children, Elina found it apparent to learn and educate her own and other children about the safety usages of the cyber-world.

It is imperative for all parents and children to learn about online child protection tips to avoid from cyber criminals activities from occurring. In light with the current child sexual grooming campaign, Elina advocates much of her time spent in her modules for CyberSAFE, teaching aspects of how to become a web wise parent in her CyberParenting Talks. In her modules targeting the youth, she captures topics ranging from child grooming, pornography, cyber bullying, general cyber threats and how to tackle the issues effectively in daily online practices.
