Future Fit Profession: Charting a Better Tomorrow

Adaptability. Acumen. Agility. Ability. These are the top attributes that are shaping accountancy professionals to be future-proof and navigate diverse and fluid roles in a complex and disruptive world. As investors and stakeholders prioritise climate change and environmental, social and governance (ESG) impacts, accountancy professionals are emerging as key leaders to anchor organisational sustainability. In the economic sphere, accountancy professionals must unleash their valued financial and non-financial insights to boost resilience against prolonged global uncertainty and tremendous headwinds. In all that they do, accountancy professionals shall uphold the profession's code of ethics to champion accountability, integrity and trust for good governance and positive reforms in the public interest. The MIA International Accountants Conference 2023 will connect these essentials to create an inspirational space for discourse and knowledge, specially tailored to future-proof accountancy professionals and equip the profession to be future fit for a better tomorrow.
