NAVIGATING NEW FRONTIERS, EMBRACING SUSTAINABILITY

As new frontiers emerge, accountancy professionals must acquire future fit skills to navigate their way to relevance and success. But what are these new frontiers that are poised to impact the profession? Among others the accountancy professionals must be alert and adept to growing stakeholder expectations focused on environment, social and governance (ESG), heightened technology advancement, changing business models, the rise of Artificial Intelligence and Automation, as well as a more complex and volatile regulatory and global landscape.

Given these new developments, the accountancy profession as a key value creator, must play its role effectively to lead long term sustainability that benefits the society and economy.

As leaders and partners to business and Government, accountancy professionals are ideally placed to drive the ESG agenda that is the backbone of sustainability and achieve the climate goals reaffirmed at 2023's COP28 (United Nations Climate Change Conference) as well as the UNSDGs.

As a premier regional platform for the profession's advancement, the MIA Conference 2024 is strategically curated to equip and future-proof accountancy professionals on new relevant skillsets including embracing emerging technologies, carbon credits and taxation, climate and green technology financing, ethical leadership, risk management, governance sustainability frameworks, and sustainability reporting.

The MIA Conference 2024 will prioritise the development of a dynamic future relevant profession along with competent, relevant and ethical talents. Join us as we strive to collaborate, connect and elevate the stature of accountancy professionals as trusted advocates for good governance, defenders of the public interest and contributors to nation building.
